Perhaps you recently or even not-so-recently acquired a DSLR camera (the ‘fancy’ kind with removable lenses) and know that you’re supposed to be getting better pictures, but somehow the pictures still aren’t quite what you had imagined. Do you shoot only on auto because you’re too nervous to change any settings and honestly don’t know what the heck all those buttons do or what those numbers on the screen mean?

Come spend a day with Rob & Felicia at this fun, hands-on workshop, where you’ll learn simple but effective tips & techniques to improve your photographic abilities, show your camera who’s boss, and be empowered to create the photos that you’ve always desired.

WORKSHOP DETAILS:

PART I – CLASSROOM SESSION:

Key topics include: Camera & Photography fundamentals, Basics of aperture/ISO/shutter speed (explained in non-intimidating, easy-to-grasp terms), Lenses, Lighting and much more!

PART II – OUTDOOR PHOTOWALK:

Take a walk around scenic Santa Monica, snap away, and practice all the new skills & techniques that you’ve just acquired. Rob & Felicia will be on-hand to answer your questions and help you out on the spot.

PART III – REVIEW:

Relax and enjoy refreshments back at CoLoft while photos are reviewed and shared with the class. Participants also get an individual critique to help them learn & improve.

WHAT YOU NEED:

- An attitude of openness and enthusiasm
- A DSLR camera with at least one lens
- Fully-charged battery and empty memory card in your camera
- Your camera’s instruction manual
- Comfortable walking shoes

ABOUT ROBERT & FELICIA:

Robert Paetz has been a professional photographer for the past 7 years, and also has a cinematography portfolio that includes several feature length films. He combines his distinct artistic style with a solid technical understanding of photography and light. Rob strongly believes that learning never stops. Besides taking lots of photos every week, he has completed Masters-level classes at UCLA, and continually attends workshops, seminars and lectures with world-renowned photographers like Steve McCurry and Joe McNally. Rob loves travel, his 35mm f/1.4 lens, and his wife – not necessarily in that order.

Felicia Wong is an associate photographer and co-owner of Robert Paetz Photography. Felicia first impressed Rob when she fearlessly fiddled with the manual settings on her little point-and-shoot Casio camera. She has had a keen interest in photography even before meeting Rob – thereafter she also developed a keen interest in the photographer.
